

Orienteering Map

Orienteering maps are of a much greater scale than Ordnance Survey maps (typically between 1:5000 and 1:15000) and the symbols are more numerous and of more significance. We can see from the map below that a course is marked. The start is indicated by a purple or red triangle, the controls by circles and the finish by two circles.

