Plan: Waymarked Trails

What are waymarked trails?

The trails are routes that are signposted with waymarkers - a yellow arrow showing direction and walking person symbol. They are public routes which are great facility. While the waymarks help you navigate, you should take a map and guidebook to help you along the way.

Waymarked trails in your programme:

There are 44 waymarked trails in Ireland that offer patrols different opportunities to go on expeditions. These include:

- A journey for a Special Interest Badge
- An expedition for a Chief Scout Award
- As part of a standing camp
- As a weekend activity

Advantages

- A pre-determined route to walk on
- Easily planned
- Facilities and suggested sections
- Flexibility to walk a section or the whole trail
- Great as an introductory expedition
- Opportunity to practice navigation and hillwalking skills

Choosing a way:

Pick the route that is accessible to you and which suits your needs. Some routes can be mountainous, others are along waterways, and others on the coast. Consider why you are undertaking this expedition, the abilities of all those involved, and your means of access the trail.

Do: Waymarked Trails

Routes and Practicalities:

Your route should allow you to stay in appropriate places and reach facilities when you need.

Equipment:

If you are going on an overnight expedition you will need the right lightweight camping equipment for all the patrol. Make sure everyone knows who to use it all and you have tested it.

Emergency

Ensure that your scouts know your planned route and schedule. Have an emergency contact and always have a charged phone with you.

Transport

How will you get to and from your route? What back-ups have you planned?

Walking Routes:

Each of the trails has suggested sections that you can follow or modify on your expedition. They can be helpful guides to the routes.

Burren Way : Map 8 Kilcorney to Carran

Slí Gaeltacht Mhuscraí : Map 2

Leave No Trace

Remember the principles of Leave No Trace while walking on the route. Only camp in suitable places and be conscious of other walkers and members of the public on the trails.
